THE PHILIPPINE STOCK EXCHANGE

The Philippine Stock Exchange (PSE) traces its history to 1927 when the Manila Stock Exchange (MSE) was established. In 1992, the MSE merged with the Makati Stock Exchange to form the unified PSE. Since then, it has become a vital platform for trading and investment in the Philippines.

HOW THE STOCK MARKET AFFECTS THE GROSS DOMESTIC PRODUCT (GDP)

- The Stock Market is often a sentiment indicator that can impact gross domestic product positively or negatively.
- In a bull market – stock prices are rising; consumers and companies have more wealth and confidence leading to more spending and higher GDP.
- In a bear market – stock prices are falling; consumers and companies have less wealth and optimism – leading to less spending and lower GDP.
